I am Edis Vrtagić, a Bachelor of Computer Science. I graduated from IPI Academy Tuzla. I am currently employed at BH Telecom d.d. Sarajevo, Tuzla Directorate, in the position of IT Help Desk Support.

I am currently learning web application development using technologies such as ASP.NET CORE MVC, C#, HTML, CSS, JAVASCRIPT, as well as MSSQL and MYSQL databases. It is also important to note that I am familiar with desktop application development in C# .NETFramework Windows Forms, which was a starting point for learning .NET technology.

During an internship program at the IT company Comversum d.o.o. Tuzla, I gained some experience in protecting clients/users through various firewall protection programs, managing customer query response systems, providing customer assistance as help desk support, and honing skills in web programming I can also say that I am a very enthusiastic person, eager for knowledge and experience, and always in search of new opportunities.

For most of my projects, to showcase the functionality of the applications, I create video presentations which you can view on my YouTube channel, where I provide a detailed overview of all the important aspects the application contains, while on my LinkedIn profile, you can find 'behind the scenes' of the application development process. As for myself, I can say that I am a responsible individual who ensures timely completion of tasks and obligations without significant delays.

Other qualities I possess include a strong desire for advancement, learning, and creative development, a keen sense of minimalism, as well as traits such as precision and visualization. In the future, I see myself as a young and promising individual who will perform tasks in the best and most efficient way possible, ensuring the satisfaction of the employer and the wider community through my knowledge and creative skills.
